TEACHER KEY

W1 - Lesson 3:
Parts of Speech

OBJECTIVES

By the end of this lesson, you should

- recognize selected parts of speech - nouns, pronouns, verbs, and adverbs
- use nouns, pronouns, verbs, and adverbs in writing

GLOSSARY

adverb - a word that describes a verb, an adjective, or another adverb noun - a word that names a person, place, thing, or idea part of speech - the role, or job, of a word in a sentence pronoun - a word that takes the place of a noun verb - a word that expresses action or a state of being

TO THE TEACHER:

W1 - Lesson 3: Parts of Speech

This lesson contains instruction and activities designed to help students extend their understanding of parts of speech – specifically nouns, pronouns, verbs, and adverbs. The students have the opportunity to practice recognizing and using these parts of speech in their writing activities.

Lesson Procedures:

1. Individual

The lesson format is such that students can work through the material on their own with teacher intervention and/or instruction as requested or required. Generally, the activities are self-directed. Of course, this depends upon the skill levels of the individual students and general class composition.

OR

2. Teacher-Led

Introduction:

- Introduce the topic of parts of speech and the importance of students learning these concepts because such knowledge will aid the student in writing more expressively and with more accuracy.
- Introduce nouns. Share some examples from the lesson and have students contribute examples and ideas.

Instruction:

- Lead students through the instruction and activities – explaining, discussing, and correcting the student activities. In this manner, you can control the pace, reinforce the concepts, and assure that students have understanding.

Proceed in this manner through pronouns, verbs, and adverbs.

Extending Yourself Assignment:

Discuss with students and modify according to needs.

W1 - Lesson 3: Parts of Speech

The words of our language are in groups called parts of speech. These groups are the “jobs” that words have in sentences.

Nouns

A noun is a word that names a person, place, thing, or idea.

A common noun names any person, place, thing, or idea.

Examples:

person: student, teacher, friend, singer place: mall, arcade, school, seashore thing: television, tiger, backpack, car idea: honesty, kindness, peace, friendship

A proper noun names a specific person, place, thing, or idea. Always capitalize proper nouns.

Examples:

person: Bill Smith, Jason, Avril Lavigne, Homer Simpson
place: Alberta, Edmonton, Jasper National Park, Harry Ainlay High School thing: Monopoly, Peace Tower, Stanley Cup idea: Christianity, Language Arts

Common and proper nouns are highlighted in the following sentences:

- According to the sign, Calgary is 60 kilometres away.
- The road crew was startled by the sight of three large moose crossing Anthony Henday Highway.
- All the lawns in the neighbourhood were very dry and brown.
- Whenever Jane takes Mutt to Ventura Beach, the dog spends hours chasing the waves.

Recognizing Nouns

A. Underline the common and proper nouns in the following sentences.

1. The teacher told the student to complete the assignment always.
2. Dexter bought a new pen at the supermarket.
3. The man told the policeman that he had not seen the accident.
4. War makes many victims.
5. The money we raised will go toward Big Brothers and Big Sisters.
6. Becky went with her sisters to Lazy Lagoon on Friday.
7. My oldest brother is in Brazil until September.
8. First comes love, then comes marriage.
9. Mr. Miller works with his wife at Oakmont School.
10. Children always require great energy from their parents.

B. In each sentence a noun is missing. Write a noun to complete the sentence.

Answers will vary.

1. _____ carved a notch into the tree to avoid getting lost.
2. It was so nice to finally buy the _____ I always wanted.
3. We were going to _____ to see the team play a game.
4. The _____ handed the files back to the secretary.
5. _____ is celebrated December 25th.
6. Leslie works at _____ during the summer.

7. The rock group is traveling by _____ to the next city.
8. _____ is a great video game.
9. _____ is always the best policy.
10. The _____ rushed to the scene of the accident.

Nouns that tell about one person, place, or thing (book, computer, game, belief) are called singular nouns.

Nouns that tell about more than one person, place, thing, or idea (books, computers, games, beliefs) are called plural nouns.

C. In the box below underline all the common nouns and proper nouns, both singular and plural. (Hint – 30 in all!)

Eddie and Rosa couldn't wait to explore the haunted house on Walnut Street. They walked up the steps and knocked on the door. A large black cat glared out the window at them. A man dressed in a butler's suit answered the door.

"May I help you? My name is Dexter," he said.

"Yes," said Rosa. "We have heard about your famous mansion. Can you give us a tour?"

"Certainly," said Dexter. "But I must warn you. Percival, the cat, told me he does not like guests. He sometimes traps people in the basement. The last guests who explored the mansion disappeared without a trace."

"Maybe we'll come back another day," said Eddie. "I don't like cats that talk."

Pronouns

Pronouns are words that take the place of nouns.

When we write, we sometimes substitute pronouns for nouns because repeating the noun several times is annoying. Using pronouns can help streamline our writing.

Personal Pronouns

Personal pronouns refer to people. There are seven personal pronouns:

I, you, he, she, it, we, they

The first five personal pronouns (I, you, he, she, it) refer to one person or thing. They are singular pronouns.

The last two personal pronouns (we, they) refer to more than one person or thing. They are plural pronouns.

The pronouns I, he, she, we, and they have the following other forms: me, him, her, us, them.

Another type of personal pronoun is the possessive pronoun. It shows that somebody owns something. Examples: my, mine, your, yours, his, her, hers, its, our, ours, their, theirs.

Examples:

He walked the dog at midnight.
The dog walked him at midnight.
My dog howled at midnight and woke our neighbours.
She hit him on his head with her purse.

D. Underline the personal pronouns in the following sentences.

1. I saw you at the store yesterday.
2. The teacher always gets angry at her and me.
3. He will always be my friend.
4. The rabbit hopped into its hole.
5. He ran after his friend when the bell rang.
6. They always help when help is needed.
7. The baby wanted her doll for bedtime.
8. Should we go for a ride in her car or his car?
9. We know the Edmonton Oilers are the best team!
10. I should try to walk my dog on its leash more often.

E. Choose a personal pronoun from the word bank to fill in each blank below.

Word Bank

I we you us it they

1. Sean and Mike had planned a trip to the beach. They were sorry to see it was beginning to rain.
2. "What do we do now?" asked Sean.
3. "There are lots of things we can still do at the seashore," Mike said.
4. "Do you have any ideas?" asked Sean.
5. "My parents said there was a seashell museum, and that we would love it," Mike said.
6. "If it stops raining, we can always go to the beach."
7. "You are right," Sean said.
8. "We should not let a little rain stop us from having a good time."
9. "I will pack a picnic lunch," said Mike.
10. "Will you bring the snacks and dessert?"

F. Read the story below. Underline all the personal pronouns. (Hint: There are 21 in all.)

Lost in the Mall

My cousin Matt and I went to West Edmonton Mall last weekend. We wandered around, ate pizza and ice cream at the food court, and bought new clothes. After a long day, we headed out to the parking lot.

Matt shouted to me from across the lot, "I can't remember where we parked the car."

I walked over to him. "Maybe that security person can help us."

"What can she do?" asked Matt.

"Maybe she could drive us around the lot until we find it," I said.

"That's a good idea. I don't have any better ideas. You are a great help to me," said Matt. "I am proud to be your cousin."

Verbs

A verb expresses action or a state of being.

In a sentence, a verb is the main word of the predicate that tells what the subject does.

- Verbs can express either physical or mental action.

Examples:

I jumped in the air to make the basket. (physical action)

I know the answer to your question. (mental action)

- Verbs can express being. Being verbs are forms of the verb "to be", such as am, are, is, was, were, will be.

Examples:

Dogs are friendlier than cats.

She will be at the party later.

G. Underline the verbs in the following sentences.

1. Lucy explained the operation of the computer.
2. The team won all of its games.
3. The car reached the narrow bridge.
4. The wind destroyed the house and smashed the barn to pieces.
5. You must brush and floss your teeth regularly.
6. The dog raced to the door and barked at the stranger.
7. Paul and Mary were in the choir.
8. If we win the lottery, we will buy our dream house.
9. Jason worked at the grocery store in the summer.
10. My brother plays the guitar and is in a band.

H. Choose a verb from the Word Bank to complete each sentence below.

Word Bank

| | | | | |
|-------|-------|--------|-------|--------|
| pay | take | ate | threw | tasted |
| drove | order | shared | feed | share |

1. After school Tanya and Jim drove to the Super Scoop Ice Cream Parlour.
2. They shared a Super Fudge Banana Split.
3. Tanya tasted only a bit of the whipped cream and cherries.
4. Jim ate all of the ice cream and hot fudge.
5. Tanya threw the banana into a brown bag.
6. "I'll feed it to my pet gorilla," she said.
7. "I'll take the banana home and eat it later," said Jim.
8. "Then I'll order my gorilla his own Super Fudge Banana Split," said Tanya.
9. "Forget that, Tanya. I will share the banana with your gorilla," Jim said.
10. "I refuse to pay for a Super Fudge Banana Split for your pet gorilla."

I. Read the story below. Underline all the verbs. (Hint: There are 18.)

The Test

Yesterday Ms. Crabtree gave us an impossible math test. The night before the test, I couldn't sleep. The day of the test, my stomach growled and my hands shook. The girl in front of me passed me the test paper.

Ms. Crabtree pointed to the clock. "Start now."

I had studied hard. Now it was time to show what I could do. Before long, I answered all the questions but one.

The next day the teacher handed me my paper.

"You worked hard. Your grade is a 90," she said.

I jumped in the air and shouted.

Adverbs

An adverb is a word that describes a verb, an adjective, or another adverb.

(Note: An adjective is a word that describes a noun.)

Adverbs help put energy and excitement into your writing. They add detail and help paint a word picture.

Examples:

Adverb describing a verb – The parade moved slowly.

Adverb describing an adjective – Your tie is very colourful.

Adverb describing another adverb – You wrote this too quickly.

- An adverb usually tells how, when, where, or how often. If you are not sure if a word is an adverb, find the verb and ask the questions how, when, where, or how often. The word in the sentence that answers your question is probably an adverb.
- Another hint: many adverbs end in -ly. (example: quickly)

J. In each sentence, underline the adverb. Then, in the brackets, write the word that the adverb describes.

Example: We worked hard and had fun. (worked)

1. Adam throws the ball forcefully to first base. (throws)
2. A noisy ghost lives here. (lives)
3. Missy gathered the children closely. (gathered)

4. It was a very rainy holiday. (rainy)
5. Sarah will go to the mall later. (will go)
6. When Bert and Ernie arrived there, they sat in the first row.
(arrived)
7. The room seemed to spin wildly. (spin)
8. Soon, the movie began. (began)
9. The sisters finally began cleaning their room. (began)
10. He leaped over the ditch gracefully. (leaped)

K. Write two adverbs that could describe each verb.

Example: drive – fast, superbly

Answers will vary.

1. laugh - e.g., loudly, often
2. read - _____
3. talk - _____
4. walk - _____
5. speak - _____
6. dance - _____
7. eat - _____
8. sing - _____
9. sit - _____
10. write - _____

Extending Yourself

Find a short article from a newspaper or a favourite magazine or book. Cut out or copy the passage that interests you and that you think will interest your classmates.

Read the passage carefully and use colours to highlight examples of

- nouns (red)
- pronouns (blue)
- verbs (yellow)
- adverbs (green)

Be prepared to share the passage and some of your examples with your teacher and classmates.

OR

Write your own paragraph or short story on a topic of your choice. Use the colour technique above on your own work to highlight the nouns, pronouns, verbs, and adverbs you have used.

Be prepared to share your writing with classmates.
